

CONFERENCE NEWS

Blackstrap Covenant Church, Dundurn, SK

It is a genuine privilege to have each of you praying for us. With joy, we ask you to give thanks for the following:

- For new people making the church a priority: Pray that the Lord would continue to work here.
- For a deeper desire to engage with our community: Pray that we would be consistent in our witness of Jesus' love for the world.
- For a growing maturity: We are thankful to see several of our people seeking to engage more thoughtfully with the Scriptures.

Regarding concerns please pray for:

- Our small groups starting up as we engage the book of James. Pray that we would grow in the "pure religion" that God calls us to practice.
- Pastor Andy as he finishes his master's degree at Briercreech: Andy has just about finished his degree and would appreciate prayers to finish well as he transitions into pastoring the church post-school.
- The personal issues facing many in our congregation: Pray that these struggles would form us into better disciples.

Thank you for your commitment to praying for each one in the Covenant family. May each of you experience the fullness of Christ this day.

Andrew Gilkinson -- Pastor

WHAT'S YOUR NEXT STEP?

We heard a good word from our Conference Superintendent, Glenn Peterson last Sunday about 'faithfulness'. He encouraged us to open our eyes to SEE the expressions of faithfulness that are all around us - here in our community and in the field of Malmo where we worship. And he's right! How often do we miss 'seeing' what God is doing because it becomes common to us - or worse yet, we become complacent and forget to be thankful for His faithfulness to us?

One of the other things that Glenn said was... "You have been put with a purpose to be faithful to what God has called, gifted, empowered and enabled you to do. Be true to who you are, to who God is, and to what He has invited you to do." This word is for ALL of us. God has given each of us a purpose to be faithful IN and WHEREVER He has placed us.

This really is the bedrock of our "what's next" program...discerning and accepting the gifts that God has given us, stepping into them and watching God continue to be faithful in and through us here at Malmo.
